

Saturday, November 10th, 2007 Moab Art Walk

The Overlook Gallery

International artist and local favorite Carolyn Dailey will exhibit recent plein air oils of the Moab area - lovely landscapes capturing the magic and majesty of the red rock canyon country.
83 E Center, Moab, UT 84532
435-259-3861

Framed Image Fine Art Gallery

A Dutch artist living in Castle Valley, Yrma is der Steenstraeten is inspired by the flowing shapes in nature. She places her subjects in a different landscape to create surreal, abstract worlds.
59 E Center Street
435-259-4446
<http://www.framedimagemoab.com>

Petra Gallery

Award winning artist Sally Hingley offers paintings, prints, and cards of local images in warm saturated colors. Ann Goodenough is showing figurative clay sculpture fired in traditional Japanese raku style or terra cotta.
88 E. Center St.
259-7002
<http://www.petragallery.com>

Dan O'Laurie Canyon Country Museum

Prints from the 1859 Macomb Expedition to the Confluence of the Green and Grand (Colorado)River. One of the great but little known government expeditions from the 19th Century.
E. Center St.

Cat's Lair Collection

This month we are happy to have 3 new artists - pottery by Sharon Brown Mikkelson, photography by Kat Nicolas and glass work by Sunnie Sacks.
59 South Main St. #3,
Eddie McStiffs Plaza
435-259-2458
<http://www.catslaircollection.com>

The Western Image

The Western Image will feature "Vignettes on Sandstone", oil paintings of western genre by Page Holland. Page will show new and previously commissioned works painted on native sandstone slabs.
16 N. 100 W.
435-259-3006
<http://www.moabartists.com>

Moab Arts Center

Each November the MARC hosts a community miniature show. It's the perfect time to purchase art for holiday gifts!
111 E. 100 North
435-259-6272

Tom Till Gallery

At the Tom Till Gallery, and around the state, Tom's new book, Utah: The Light Fantastic is a best seller. Pick one up now for your Christmas list.
61 N. Main Street; Moab, Utah
435-259-9808